EDITION DIRECTION

Connect People, Equipment and Readiness

An intended Standard edition for agency operations, qualifications and accountable records.

An agency needs to know who is qualified, which equipment is ready and what evidence supports an operational decision.

Public Safety would develop Asset's general equipment and business foundation around those responsibilities. Standard provides the industry-specific structure; this edition's operational workflows and external connections are still being defined.

This is a development direction, not an available customer release.

A REPRESENTATIVE READINESS REVIEW

Make the Required Evidence Easy to Follow

Proposed workflow for discussion with agency operators.

People

Identify the role, qualification and readiness obligations attached to an assignment.

Equipment

Connect assigned equipment with its identity, service history and the records needed to assess readiness.

Review

Retain the supporting evidence, responsible decision and follow-up where an obligation is unmet.

Existing Systems

Define which communication and records systems remain authoritative, and what information an agreed connection would exchange.

DESIGN PARTNER INVITATION

Bring One Agency Workflow Into Focus

We want to work with people who own the equipment, qualification and recordkeeping decisions inside an agency.

Bring	One recurring readiness process, authorized sample forms, relevant roles and the decisions the records must support.
Define	The required evidence, permissions, existing systems, operational constraints and outcome that would make the workflow useful.
Agree	A bounded design engagement, participation, deliverables and terms before work starts.

Discuss Public Safety design participation at metraslate.com/demo.